

Robert Lingoes

Independent AI Project Designer

Founder, Arcturion Group

I bring more than 20 years of client-facing work, creative judgment and business ownership to AI workflow design and knowledge organization. I turn intention into requirements, responsibilities and work that can be reviewed.

WHAT I BRING

Listen and clarify. Understand the intention behind a request, distinguish preferences from requirements and make expectations clear.

Shape a coherent workflow. Connect people, information and tools; consider how an individual choice affects the whole operation.

Review with judgment. Explain tradeoffs, stay composed in difficult conversations and give specific direction when a result needs to improve.

SELECTED INDEPENDENT WORK

The Arcturion Universe. Specialized agents, organized knowledge and useful tools, with explicit responsibilities, shared context and human review boundaries. Explore architecture.

Arcturion Finance. A local-first macOS accounting application, developed since June 2026 and informed by salon bookkeeping. Actual synthetic backend outputs and disconnected browser captures show scoped behavior and interface structure. Inspect the case study.

Public engineering projects. Tools for agent instructions, review and code context, connected operations, local model routing and usage visibility. Public source and explicit limits make the work inspectable. Explore Technologies.

EXPERIENCE BEHIND THE WORK

2017-2024: Owned Konexion Salon, Plymouth, MA; bookkeeping, marketing, client service and styling. December 2025-present: Master Stylist, Fringe Hair Salon, Rockland, MA. February 2026-present: Independent AI Project Designer.

MY ROLE AND THE TOOLS

I define requirements, shape architecture and workflows, organize context, direct AI-assisted implementation and review results. AI coding tools perform substantial code generation and technical execution. These independent builds do not establish customer adoption, live banking or validated accounting correctness.

Arcturion Group is the identity for this portfolio. Arcturion Technologies is my personal development project in applied AI, agent systems and automation.
